Dear Sir/Madam,

Claire Culliford works as a freelance French/Spanish->English translator for SDL's English Network Office. One of her specialisms is legal translation and as a result she translates legal documents of many different types for the company. These include contracts, general sales conditions, company accounts, management reports. Claire is part of a small team of freelancers who we work with on a weekly basis, Claire always delivers on time and her quality is of a good standard.

Kind regards

Carla Johnson
